THE STORY

Daigle Brothers drops 120,000 kWh annually with Complete Control Inc. lighting retrofit

Tomahawk, WI-based steel fabricator Daigle Brothers Inc. needed a way to cut facility operational costs. Knowing energy efficiency was their solution, they enlisted the Complete Control Energy and Environmental team to proceed with an energy audit of their machinest shop. Pre-audit, the Daigle Brothers' shop sucked in about 32,000 kWh of electricity each month. Post-audit, the shop was only using just over 15,000 kWh per month. Along the way, Complete Control assisted Daigle Brothers with all Focus on Energy rebate documentation, substantially lowering upfront remediation costs.

THE AUDIT

The building was audited with the following focus:

- Lighting

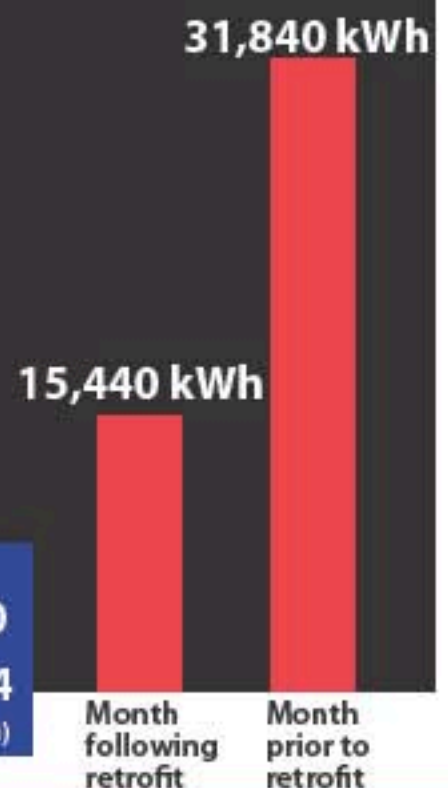

THE FINDINGS

Complete Control auditors gathered the data and decided that a whole-facility lighting retrofit would offer the Daigle Brothers the most substantial reduction of energy. The first electric bill following implementation of the project was immediate proof of significant energy savings.

The lighting retrofit included replacing all metal halide light fixtures with 4 x 8 inch bulb T-8 fixtures. Complete Control acquired the fixtures for the client, as well as assisted with all Focus on Energy rebate program documentation. Daigle Brothers utilized inhouse staff for installation.

On peak savings: $621.50

THE CLIENT EXPERIENCE

"We contracted with Complete Control on a Focus on Energy feasibility study, as well as on a lighting project, and then a compressed air audit. They were very professional in showing me not only our savings and paybacks, but also gave me their honest opinion on what they thought made the most sense for Daigle Brothers. We were very satisfied with Complete Control and would and have recommended them to others for similar work."
